ANIMAL STARCH. According to the Baltimore Sun, an mportant discovery has been lately made by the head of the microscopic tural Department at Washington, Mr. Thomas Taylor. By a thorough series of experiments with the microscope he has been able to detect animal starch in considerable quantities in the human blood. Every drop of which he has tested exhibits, when treated with iodine and sulphuric acid, more or less granules of blue-colored its presence in the blood must have an intimate relation to fermentation of the blood in malarious districts, since starch is convertible into grape sugar, which

CHINESE FISH-HATCHING.

A curious mod- of fish-hatching is said to be followed in China. Having collected the necessary spawn from the water's edge, the fisherman places a certain quantity in an empty hen's egg; which is sealed up with wax and put under the setting hen. After some days they break the egg, and empty the fry into water well warmed by the sun, and there nurse them until they are sufficiently strong to be turned into a lake or river.

NEW LONDON, CONN., description. Our Gins have been in use thirty years, and have an established reputation for rimplicity, light running, durability, and for quality and quantity of lint produced. Our Freder is easily attached to the Gin, and easily operated by any hand of ordinary intelligence. They are the rimplers and cheapest Freder in the market, and feed with more regularity than is possible by hand, increasing the outliers and giving a cleaser and better stample. At all Fairs where exhibited and by planters having them in use, they have been accorded the highest encomiums. Our Condenters are nell-made, durable and simple in construction, and do what is required of them rapidly and well. No additional power is required to drive the Feeder or Condenser, and no Gia Houss is complete without them. We are prepared to warrant, to any reasonable extent, perfect satisfaction to every purchaser. Circuiars, prices and full information furnished.
